Innovative Solutions for Changing Needs

TASKDOOR has consistently served the healthcare market with robust and reliable products. Our product keeps pace with expanded solutions that address the changing needs of the healthcare environs. Many additions in door solutions and trims are designed for behavioral health. The range of our innovative solutions for behavioral health will meet and exceed facility expectations like medical office buildings and hospitals.

Keeping Pace with Healthcare Changes: TASKDOOR offers the latest in security, safety, convenience and design for healthcare environ, such as advanced environmentally friendly doors and antimicrobial-coated doors, which help with infection control.

Security Solutions

TASKDOOR Security Solutions provides end-users with security, life-safety and aesthetic solutions as well as essential support services to ensure well-functioning doorway systems that address challenges common to many end-user environs such as schools, healthcare facilities, retail establishments, government, military and office buildings. We also offer a wide selection of decorative doors that enhance the aesthetics of any facility.

Behavioral Health Solutions

Challenges and Solutions Behavioral health is concerned with the prevention, diagnosis, treatment and rehabilitation of those who may exhibit aggressive or self-destructive behaviors. One of the main goals of behavioral health is to keep patients safe during recovery or rehabilitation. Security and safety are critical challenges as facilities accommodate others who work in or visit these environs like family, clinical and professional staff or service personnel. TASKDOOR offers a selection of door solutions specifically designed for behavioral health.

Infection Control

Hospitals have taken excessive measures toward infection control to increase patient healing and reduce the length of hospital stays. TASKDOOR have kept pace with these measures by incorporating antimicrobial solution. Antimicrobial seals and gaskets can be added to improve fire code and acoustic standards.
